

Limitations of service

I do not provide any services of a sexual nature which include but is not limited to hand relief or the removal of any of my own clothing.

I can appreciate that there are those individuals who will advertise as being non-sexual whilst actually providing such services if asked. I am not one of them.

Sexual massages create a lot of base energy which easily drowns out the heart space energy (the energy that performs the healing function to your body). To generate base energy is against the principles of my operation.

Non- Limitation

You are welcome to dress down to your underwear or to dress down completely, whichever you are more comfortable with. I will normally have you partly covered with a sarong or towel.

I will massage the buttocks and groin region. There are many muscles that connect to the hip that should not be neglected.

I will not become offended or uncomfortable if a male client becomes erect. I can appreciate that the male organ can sometimes become erect through blood flow and energy releases. I will however shift the energy by changing the area of focus if this happens.
